

Architectural Engineering Institute International Student Design Competition

Impact the future of Architectural Engineering...

Engage with the best and brightest students...

Pay it forward in a meaningful and relevant way...

Become a Competition Sponsor!

Your competition sponsorship allows students to develop and integrate innovative and original solutions to a real-world design problem that addresses design, integration, and construction challenges. Since the competition began in 2010, student participants have realized the value of the competition experience as one of the best ways to simulate a building project and implement theory they learn in the classroom.

The AEI International Student Design Competition provides a real proving ground for students to practice what they have learned and gain valuable experience managing a project within an interdisciplinary team.
